Ohio Mobility Managers Gather in Knox County for Annual Retreat

Mobility Managers from across Ohio recently gathered in Knox County for an annual retreat—an event dedicated to strengthening regional partnerships and addressing local transportation needs, barriers, and trends.

The retreat offered participants a valuable opportunity to share insights and strategies to improve mobility options in their communities. Thanks to the support of Knox County Transit, attendees enjoyed a guided tour of Mount Vernon aboard a transit vehicle. The tour featured several local landmarks, including Kenyon College, Mount Vernon Nazarene University, and the beloved Fountain of Dogs—a community favorite.

The afternoon session opened with a warm welcome from Knox County Commissioner Barry Lester, who highlighted the importance of integrated transportation planning. His remarks set the tone for a panel discussion featuring key local leaders:

Dayne Baughman – Non-Emergency Medical Transportation (JFS)

Bethany Celmar – Director, Knox County Transit

Zach Green – Commissioner, Knox Public Health

The panel addressed current transportation challenges, innovative solutions, and the importance of collaboration between transit, health services, and human service agencies.

As the retreat concluded, participants left with new ideas, stronger connections, and a renewed commitment to improving transportation equity across Ohio.

EMERGENCY RIDE HOME PROGRAM

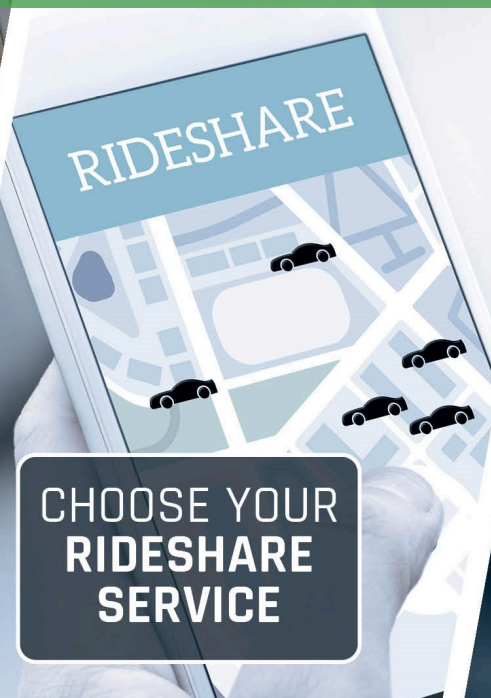

The MORPC Emergency Ride Home (ERH) program is a free service that assures commuters taking alternative modes of transportation to and from work won't be stranded in the case of an emergency, illness, or unexpected overtime. It's a foolproof benefit meant to ease the minds of commuters who carpool or vanpool, bike, or take the bus to work and need to get home quickly.

The program is now allowing registered users to take their emergency rides with the licensed rideshare provider of their choice (Uber, Lyft, or a taxi provider). Users will pay for the ride up front and be reimbursed via a mailed check within 4 weeks after uploading their receipt on gohiocommute.com/morpc.
